Teamwork and collaboration

At Accenture, you can work with people from a wide range of cultural, educational and geographic backgrounds—people who are able to challenge conventional thought, offer unique perspectives and generate innovative ideas. You can enjoy sharing information and exchanging knowledge with these people. Together, you can experience the satisfaction of finding innovative ways to enable clients to reach their goals and achieve high performance.

Whether your team works at the individual client, country or global level, you will find colleagues who share your ambitions and achievements. Very often, your workmates turn into lifelong friends.

Accenture's Knowledge Exchange and communities will help you engage in knowledge sharing. The Knowledge Exchange will be especially helpful for you to:

- Get answers to selling and delivery questions from experienced peers and colleagues.
- Keep up to date on a given topic of interest by subscribing to alerts of new content.
- Share ideas by blogging about a topic and get feedback from others.
- Use wikis to contribute knowledge to a community of practice and develop ideas as a group.

What is A3 about?
 'Addo Agnitio Award' (A³) - From the Latin words meaning 'To give knowledge', this award is given to employees as a way to recognize those individuals who best exemplify key knowledge sharing behaviours. The knowledge sharing reward and recognition program is intended to recognize and reward these individuals as well as encourage our practice to be connected, contribute and reuse content.

The quarterly award will be granted to the top knowledge sharers and factors in contributions to the Knowledge Exchange, downloads of those contributions by the practice, activities within the discussions area (Discussion questions and Blogs) and connections via People pages.
