

FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT

Resources for your finance organization to respond to the call to add value.

APQC provides targeted financial management resources to help you ensure that your processes are properly designed, executed, and governed. Our benchmarks and best practice research will help you identify gaps in your performance, show you the financial consequences of those gaps, and give you the best practices to improve.

We are the largest source of benchmarks, process and performance assessments, and best practice data to improve the efficiency of your core finance and accounting processes. Based on our more than 40 years of expertise and experience, we provide content and data that addresses all areas of financial management.

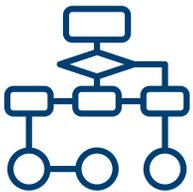

The most frequent information I look for is related to budgeting and forecasting and the finance processes - how other companies, big companies, execute these processes. You can find a lot of helpful information in the APQC Knowledge Base.

APQC SUPPORTS YOUR FINANCE TRANSFORMATION JOURNEY

Organizations are streamlining and automating their finance processes to transform from merely a reporting function, to one that works with the business to plan for the future. APQC has the resources to help you from the beginning:

START WITH A STRONG FOUNDATION — no matter what you're doing, you have to have standardized processes to improve. Map current processes and/or systems to a process framework such as APQC's Process Classification Framework® (PCF) to get a clearer view of what work is currently performed by whom, where, and when.

IDENTIFY AND CLOSE PERFORMANCE GAPS — learn where your business processes stack up against the competition using APQC's benchmarking tools including comprehensive assessments and quick-access benchmark data that show you where you're ahead or underperforming.

DELIVER EFFECTIVE CHANGE — experts warn that the first, large hurdles to be jumped involve systems integration, process standardization, and staff training. APQC's research addresses the need for new knowledge and analytical tools, increased staff productivity, and systems harmonization.

Process frameworks are the most utilized tool/technique for finance process improvement efforts.

APQC's Process Classification Framework® creates a common language for organizations to communicate and define work processes comprehensively and without redundancies.
